MORE PRICE-RECORDS BROKEN BY THE THIRD WEEK OF OUR GREAT JANUARY SALES.

Late corners still have equal chances with earliest buyers; there are thousands of fresh offerings that substantially set these Sales on their opening basis. Besides all that---prices on sold down January lots are again reduced; cut to the quick for certain closing.

SILK WAISTS—What option } closing out? All our interest centres in the coming season, and thoughts of approaching inventory blind us to cost and loss. Three big lots are far easier handled than a dozen smaller -we so arrange them, and count each waist as already sold.

IN THE FIRST LOT Those sold up to $9.00—the grouping of four tables—miscellaneous styles, colorings, silks and satins—handsome garments handled and mussed. Take choice

IN THE NEXT LOT Those sold up to $20.00-colwaists for street or evening wear. French models of distinguished fashion, carrying all sizes in this, that, or the other style. Choice

IN THE LAST LOT Those sold up to $40.00—Pa-quin's, Doucet's—every French artist of note and fame has walsts in the aggregation. It is a sweeping finale, and price a very small object.

SHIRT WAISTS—Only three weeks in the house and already up for sacrifice. Targets for finger marking and mussing, we mark them right down while the first freshness still stays. There are white lawn waists, embroidered and tucked, imported Madras and Scotch gingston, waists, either lives. Madras and Scotch gingham waists; lifted straight out of 98c. to $1.50 company and simultaneously 75c swept to WRAPPERS—All of warm, pure wood eiderdown, made wide, full and long, solid colorings, and clean; through the past $2.48 weeks marked $3.50. Choice of TEA GOWNS—100 styles to be bought at $7.50. It is our largest and (probably) best lot. Leading effects are Empire, Watteau and French backs, with variations we're unable to tell of fully. Materials are fine Henriettas and Cashmeres, running through an inconceivable range of colorings. Trimmings in lace and $7.50 embroidery, CHIFFONS, ETC.—Broadly speaking, anything and everything in fancy Mousselines, Chiffons and Liberty Gauzes—tinted, plain, dotted, striped and figured. By dint of 14 days' unceasing selling stocks have dwindled to 2,500 yards. Rather than carry them longer—new closing price is

RENAISSANCE GOODS

-All under the same sacrifice spell -we're pushing hard toward cutting present stocks in half before stock taking. Scarfs, Squares, Centre Pieces, Dovlies in renaissance lace or renaissance and linen-buy any one (band made, moreover) for half what we asked.

Beal Renaissance and Linen Scarfs, 17x50, our regular price $2.68—our sacrifice price, Real Benaissance Lace Scarfs, three admirable designs, 20x60—regular price $3.48; sacrificed at Real Renaissance Lace Squares, and Centres—three styles of squares, three of round—regularly 89c—specially. Real Renaissance Doylies; 7 to 9 inches; sold during the season at 29c—out on a counter at FANCY LINENS—Tea Cloths and Squares of Irish Linen, with full hemstitching, and handsome, hand drawn open work. Likely as not we'll have to pay these prices in the near future.

NEW LIFE GIVEN TO OUR

SALES OF CLOAKS AND FURS.

Counting special orders to manufacturers in the aggregate with the season's surplus stocks, we could have safely met anything short of the buying avalanche that followed our first January announcements. Not five days from this sale's opening, we were scouring the market for more Coats, Capes and Suits, urging the swiftest production compatible with high character in every article.

First slowly, then faster and faster as our needs grew, choice garments poured in. As this third week opens, we can show, from all sources, in round numbers-750 Stylish Jackets-500 Tailored Suits-

450 Assorted Capes-375 Dress Skirts-And (large and small) some 500 Fur Pieces-Made up between seasons, when best fabrics and linings are at their cheapest, expert labor content to work for small wage, and manufacturers well satisfied to accept narrow profits. This is the condensed epitome:
